Fort Sill: Past, Present, and Future

David Dold, P.E.
Directorate of Public Works
Engineering Division

- Staked out on 8 Jan 1869 by GEN Sheridan
- One of only two of the “frontier forts” still in use today.
- Original buildings were built in the 1870’s by the Buffalo Soldiers.
- As the frontier disappeared, the first School of Fires opened in 1911
- Birthplace of military combat aviation.

CURRENT MISSION

- Fort Sill Mission: The Fires Center of Excellence continually and progressively educates, trains, and inspires Fires Soldiers and leaders and develops requisite capabilities to ensure current and future Fires forces can accomplish their missions, while providing unparalleled support to the Fort Sill community.
- Directorate of Public Works Mission: To provide facilities, maintenance, Unaccompanied Enlisted Personnel Housing (UEPH), and engineering services to the Garrison, assigned units, agencies and offices on Fort Sill to support readiness, well being and sustainability.

CURRENT MISSION: HOW DO WE DO THIS?

- INSTALLATION PLANNING BOARD: What is needed to conduct the mission?
  - Holistic Approach: Not just public works and facilities centered.
  - Tries to identify who, what, when, where, and how much
  - What are the options?
- REAL PROPERTY PLANNING BOARD: What do we need to build new, what do we need to re-use and re-purpose, how do we sustain the facilities, and what do we need to renovate and modernize?
  - Develop our MCA list.
  - Develop our Capital Investment Strategy: broken into 11 different sustainment categories.
  - Fix the worst high priority buildings first.
